Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Morgan entertained at their home in the Third Ward Friday evening. The time was pleasantly passed in music and progressive parlor games. A choice luncheon was served to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walker and Mr. and Mrs. John Crooks.

An exchange states that you can read a newspaper proof three or four times and repeatedly pass the same error without seeing it. All newspapermen tell you so. But as soon as the press is started and the paper is printed in its complete shape, there stands the error in front of you so big you can't see anything else. It's a strange fact and probably the reason why it is so easy to edit a paper after it is printed.

Here's a suggestion for a cleaner city—Let the public schools inaugurate "the head-on-off movement" against the fly. In some cities the boys and girls are given credits according to the number of flies brought in each day. It raises considerable enthusiasm and hundreds of thousands of these pesky little pests are done away with and the children enjoy the sport. There's enough children in American Fork, if interested in the game, for us to become a flyless city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chipman spent Friday visiting at Springville.

C. Adamson, Mrs. Thomas Barratt and Mrs. Ernest Chadwick.

With the shearing season at hand, woolgrowers of the state may congratulate themselves on the report issued from the office of the state board of sheep commissioners. An inspection of all flocks in the state by state and federal inspectors during the past month shows that with the exception of some herds in Wayne and Uintah counties the sheep of Utah are in fine condition; that the clip this year will be good and more free from dirt than in past seasons, and that all in all the industry is in good condition. In Wayne and Uintah counties the commission will compel all sheep to be dipped before shearing.

IF YOU love your country and desire to assist in saving the nest sum of $350,000,000 in a single season, for damage done by flies, then commence swatting right now. Don't wait until the festive insect lights on the end of your nose and pester you to desperation, before landing on it, but go out of your way to swap a struggling, feeble fly during these days of cold and frost whenever an opportunity occurs. As with all important matters "Do it now," and thus prevent the hatching of millions of eggs which would later develop into billions of flies. The Merchants Association of New York City has already inaugurated a nation-wide movement to exterminate the house fly, and is authority for the figures given above. For real effectiveness swat the fly before it has a chance to lay its eggs.
